A Time for Us

In a world of conflict, sorrow, and unrest it was hard to find peace and understanding. It was difficult to be peaceful and to understand others when so many changes were taking place, molding the lives of people everywhere.

Probably never before have teenagers witnessed so many national incidents that affected both their present and future lives.

But somehow, despite all the misgivings of life, the students of Churubusco High School were able to grasp their portions of life and hang on. We forced ourselves to carry on the customs and way of life expected of high school students. For even though the outside world seemed so distant, it was in reality, very near and with the pace of the world speeding up so fast, we found ourselves creating, "A Time For Us."

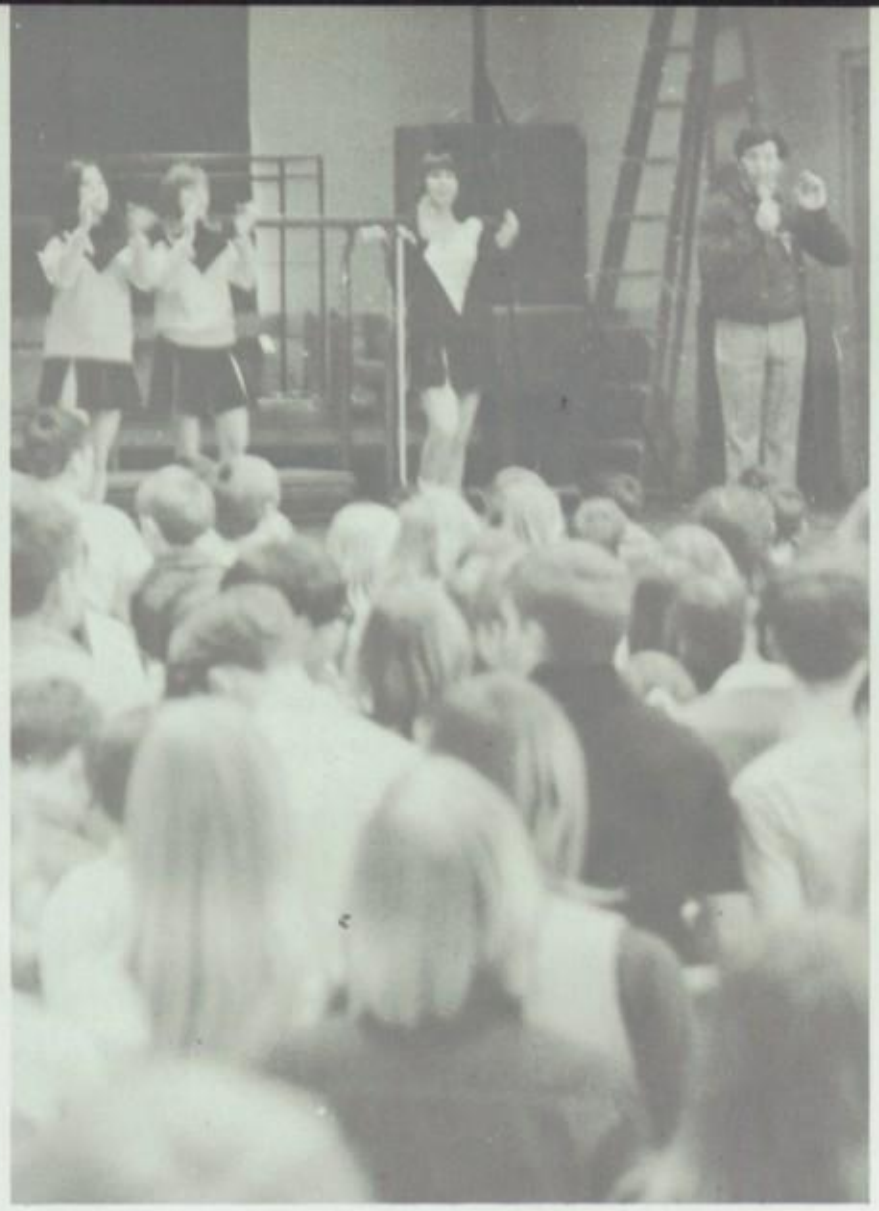
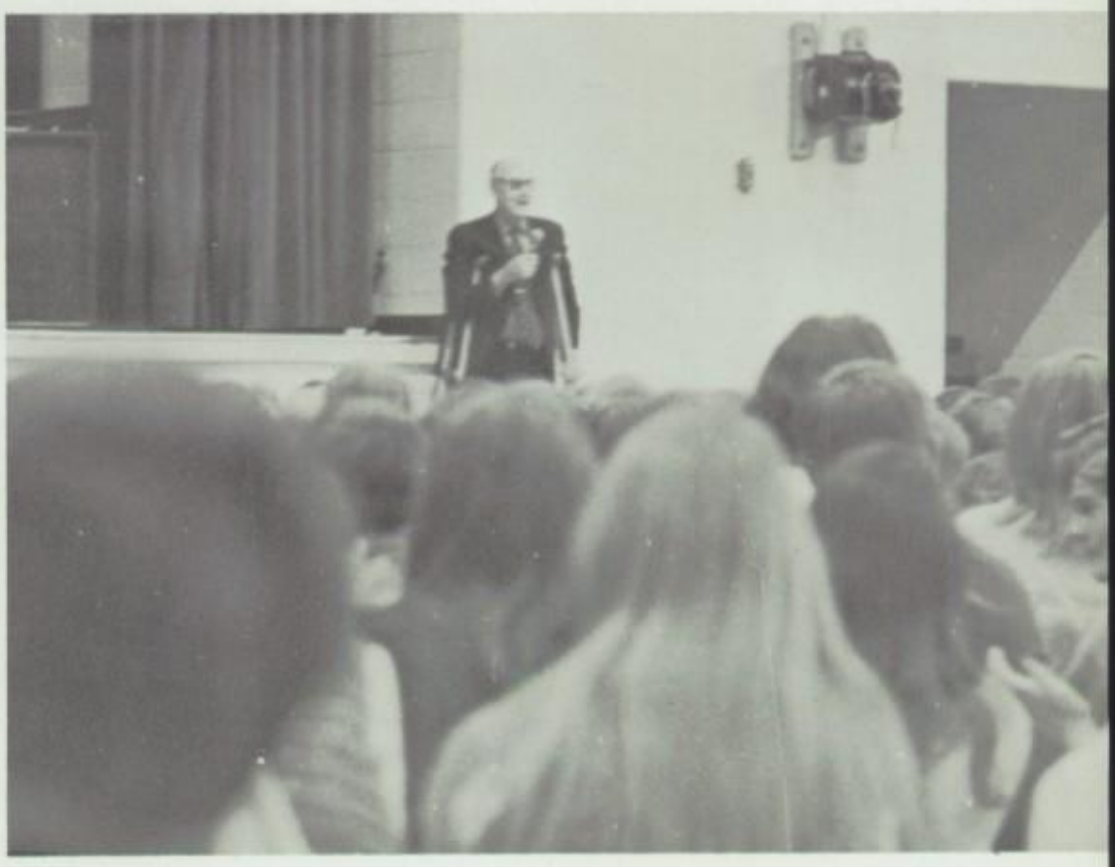
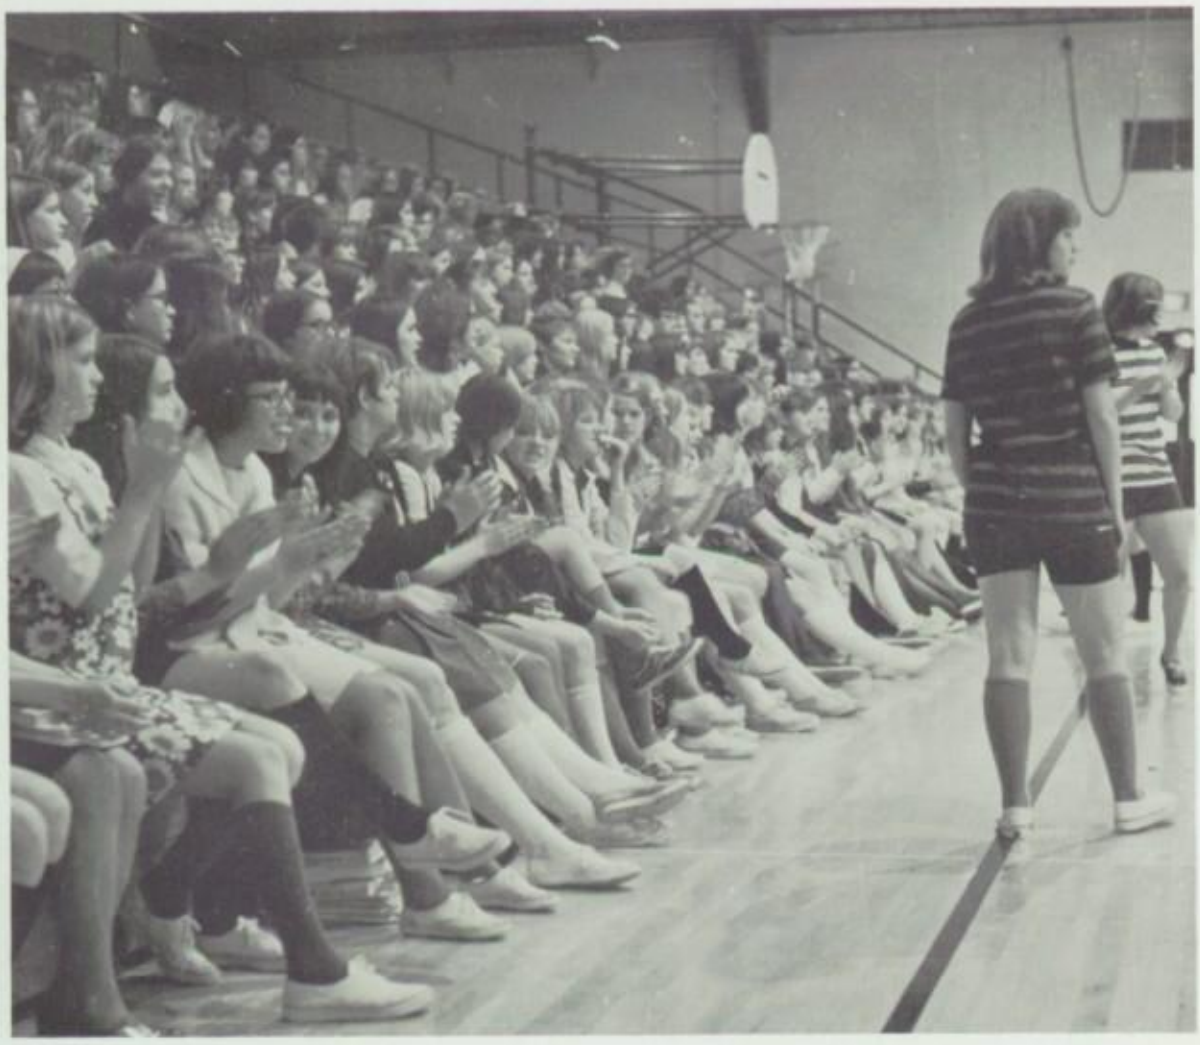
The 1970-71 Homecoming was a huge success in spite of the weather. Rain put a damper on the parade, but could do nothing to dampen the spirit of the Eagles. Had you been one of the rain-soaked fans, you would have felt the excitement as John Long caught a pass from Steve Cassidy for a touchdown and as Gary Byrd kicked the ball 48 yards for a field goal. The 9-0 shutout wasn't the only excitement. At halftime Anne Reicke was crowned queen and presented with red roses.





Pep Sessions Build up Eagle Spirit



A gymnasium full of kids, resonant noise, and a squad of cheerleaders was the setting of a CHS pep session. The cheerleaders worked up spirit with the students before each big eagle game. Various clubs also participated in the pep sessions with an original skit or two.

During the year we sponsored a "Mr. Legs" contest with Terry Papenbrock victorious.

Two pep rallies were held before Carroll football game and before the sectional.

All in all, a CHS pep session was a must for the Eagle teams.

Assemblies Begin Where Studies End

Every year the Student Council chooses three assembly programs. Those chosen to present their various abilities were Ed Schetter, Bob Larson, and Clifford Guest.

Ed Schetter, a yoga specialist, showed some of his exercises and told of his vegetarian diet. The fun came when he had Steve Boggs, Curt Bair, and Mel Egolf try some of the easier exercises.

At right—Members of the Random Sample performed at CHS while touring the country.

Square, round, silver and gold rimmed glasses returned from the 19th century to correct the eyesight of "in" students.

Skirts went from the high to the popular midi and maxi lengths.

A revised dress code brought on all the latest in slacks and pant suits, much to the distress of some.

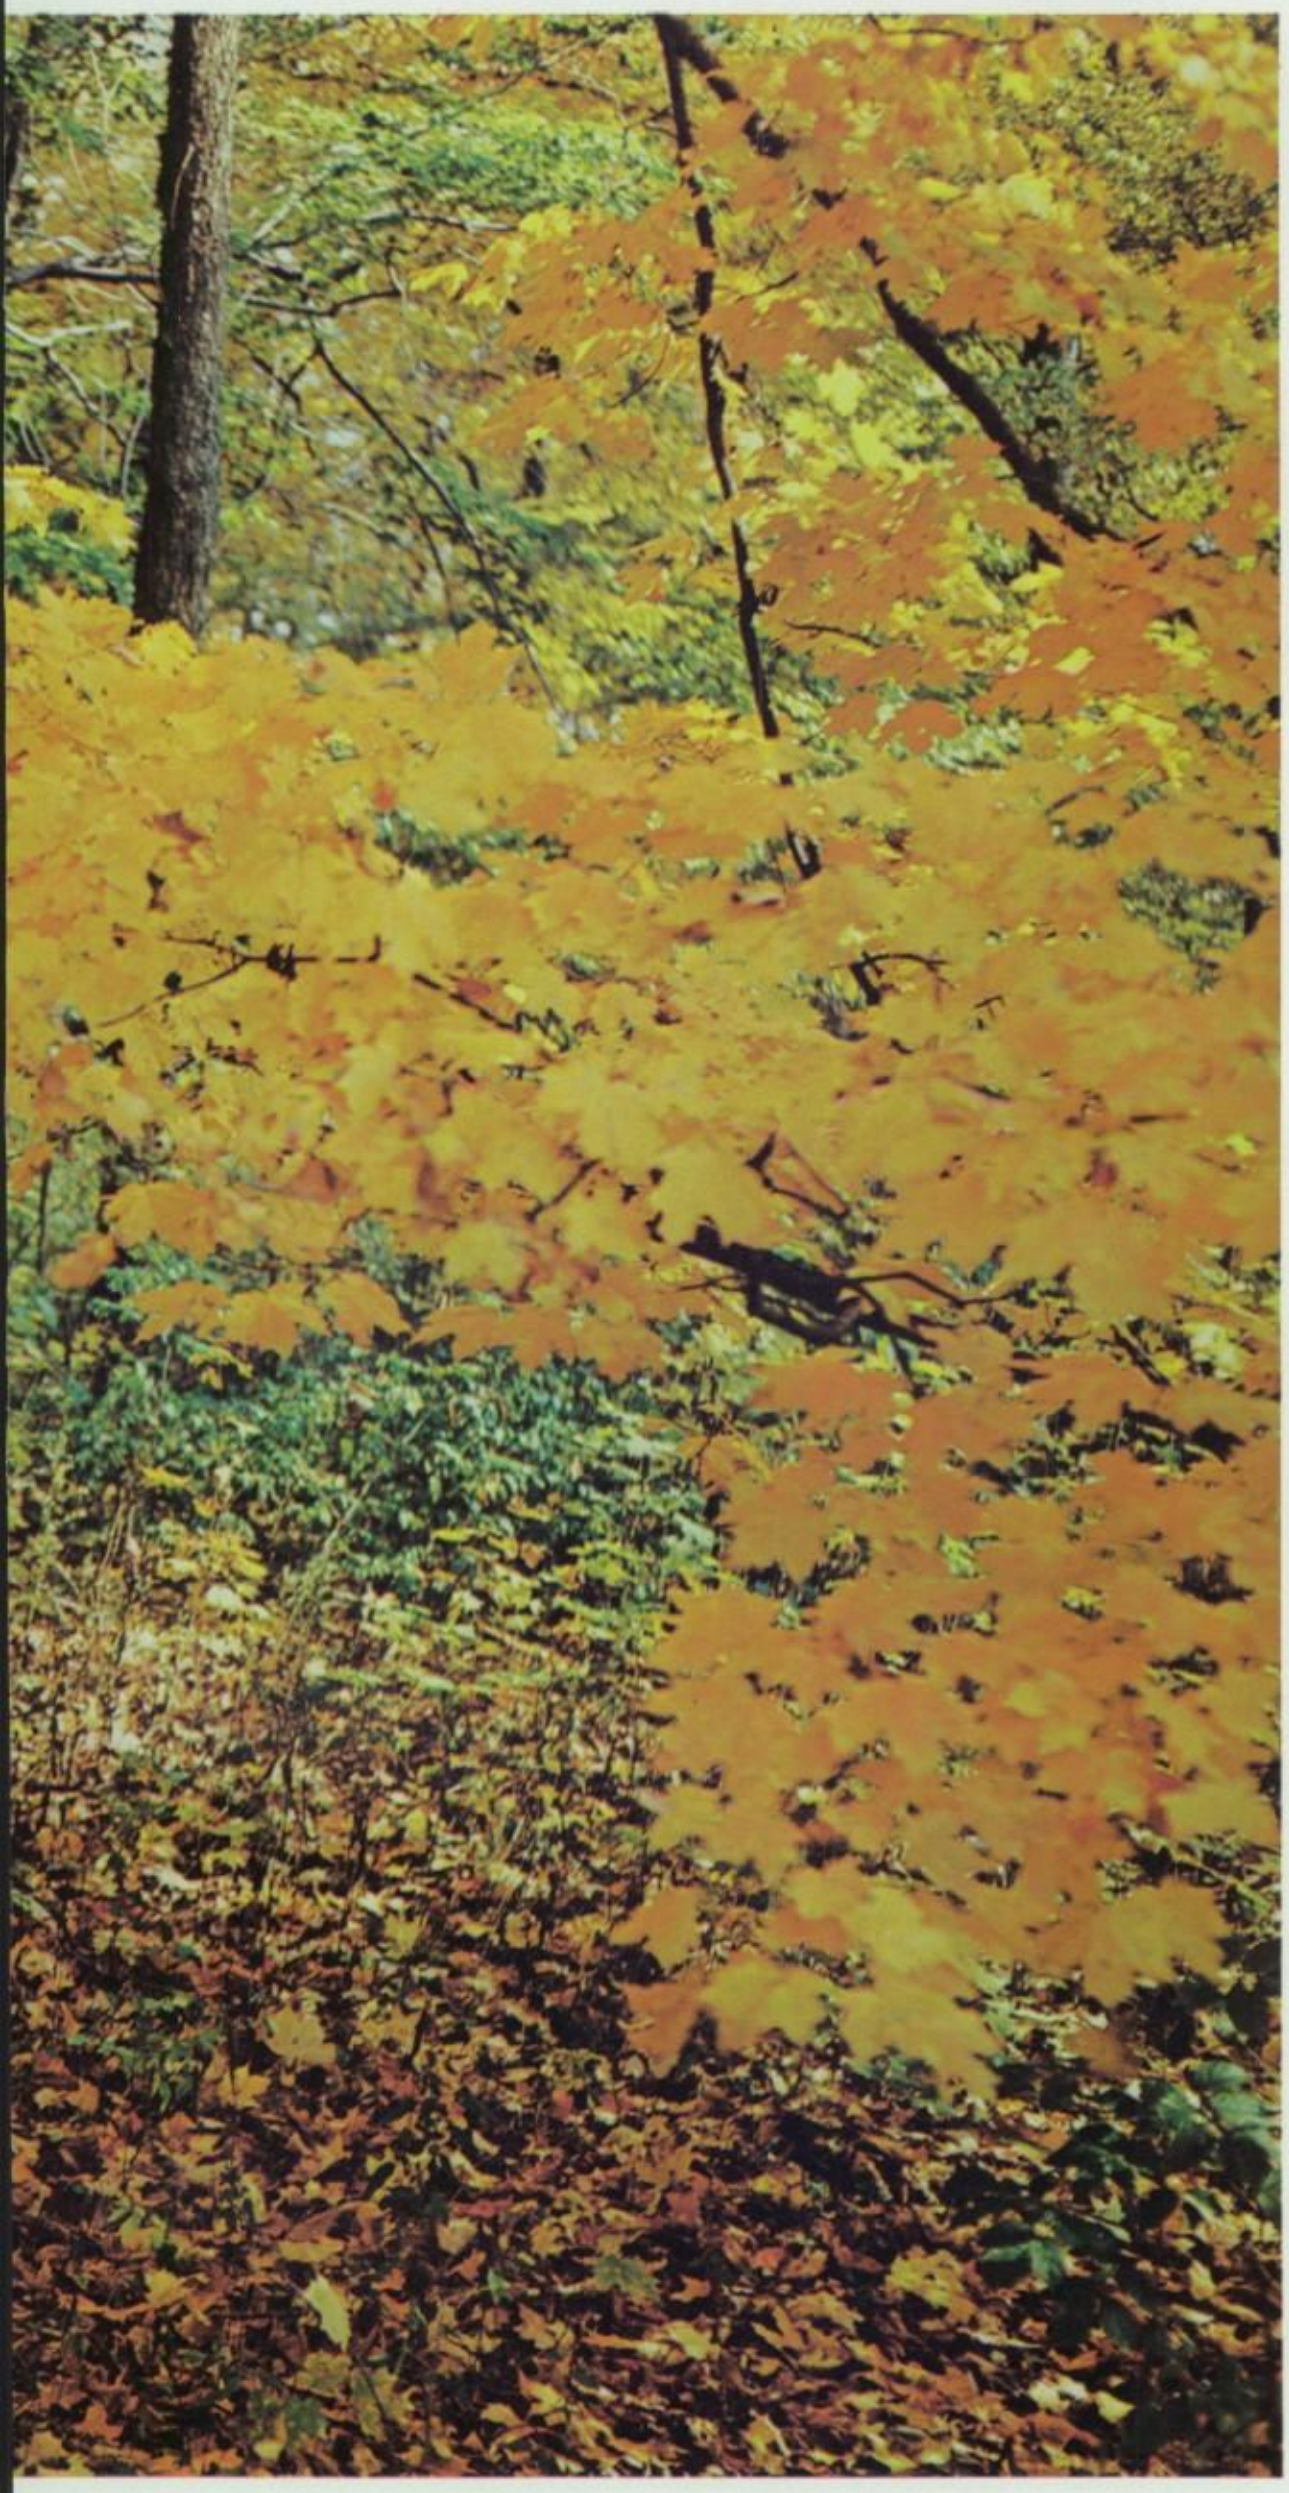
Self-knitted sweater vests and ponchos became more popular. Almost any style, shape, or size could be found in the halls and classrooms.

At Right—One of the oldest style in glasses, wire rims, is updated by Ned Egolf, Donna Wilkins, and Bill Russell.

Fads and Fashions Swing With Flair

Above—Marilyn Rider and Marsha Wilson take advantage of the new dress code by wearing slacks.

At Left—Long vests, gaucho pants, and midi skirts are only a few of the fads worn by Becky Lock, Diane Sheets, and Renee Arehart.



A time for us,
Someday there'll be
When chains are torn,
by courage born,
Of a love that's free.

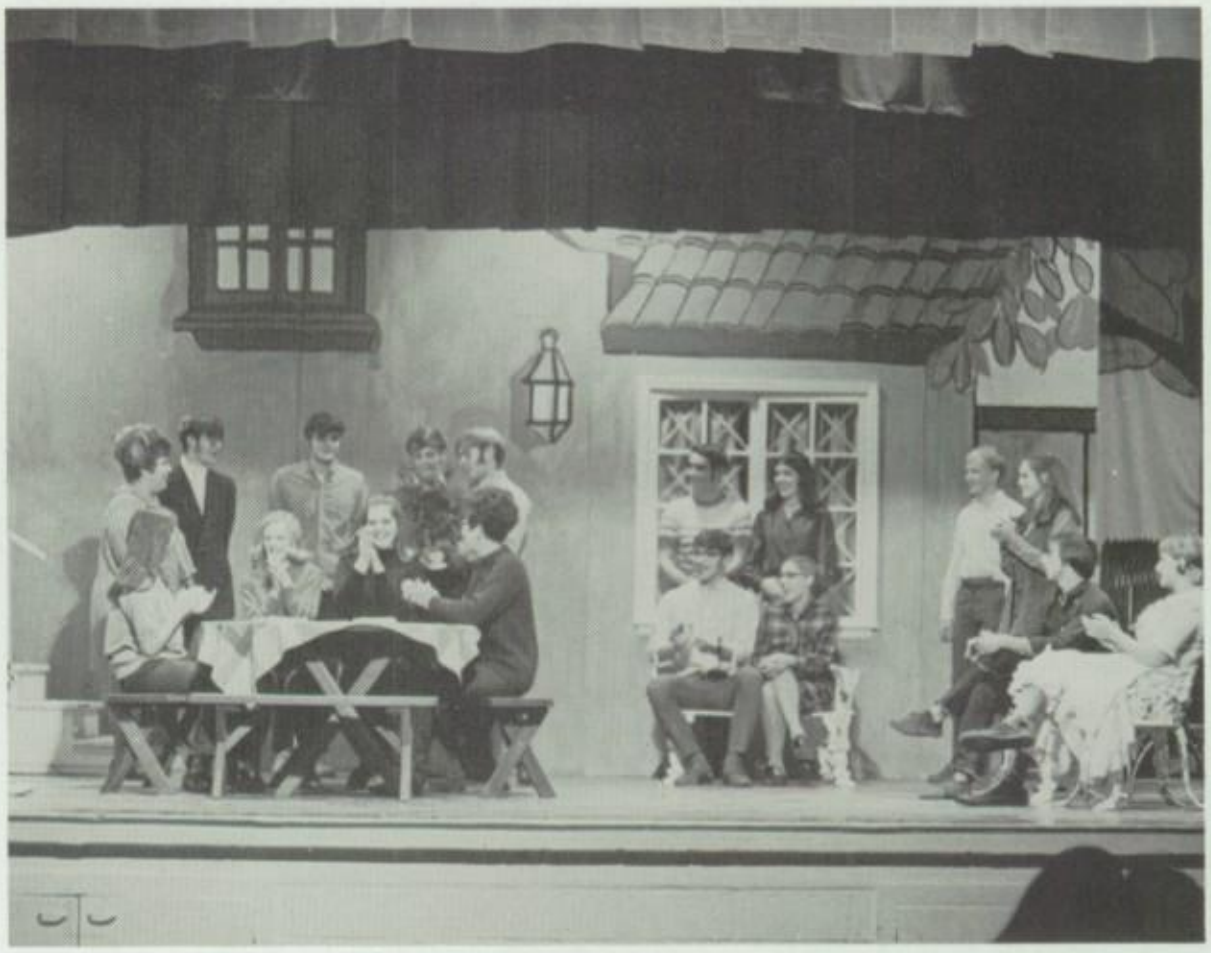
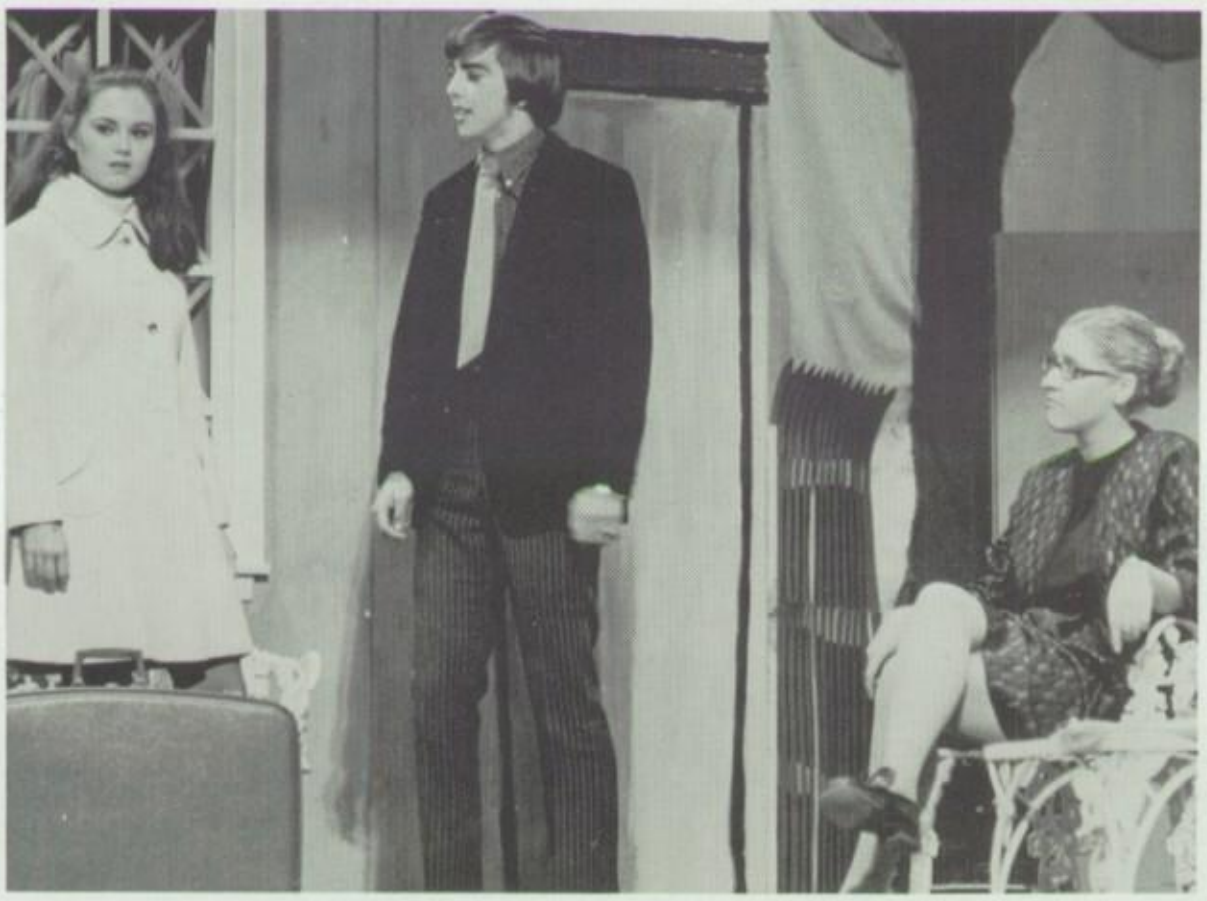
Young April—Trials of Teen Life

Bill Fogle gives Chris Coleman a helping hand as she climbs through the window.



The play cast presents Miss Krider with red roses for the time she gave to the play.



Bill Fogle tells Connie Dafforn just the way things will be with no help from mother-in-law, Connie Hooten.

Chris Coleman tells Bill Fogle that there is more to love than meets the eye.

"Young April" was presented by the Seniors on October 15 and 16. The play dealt with the humor and pain of being a teenager from the viewpoint of both the parent and the teenager.

The 1971 all-school play, "All My Sons," was presented to the public on April 16. This American drama dealt with the many conflicts between fathers and their sons. The members of the cast, with the aid of the director, Mr. Norman, were able to realistically portray each character in the family.

At Left—Jim Read and Cherri Neukom observe Bill Fogle and Jim Tomlinson as they maneuver the ladder into position.

At Left—Dale Duncan pauses to contemplate what his next move will be.

"Young At Heart" was the theme given the 1971 prom. The custom of passing the loving cup from the Senior class to the Junior Class was completed when Karen Salesman, vice-president of the Senior Class presented Dan Garman with the cup along with well wishes for the next year.

Debbie Gaff, Queen for the evening took pleasure in crowning Susie Daily as Princess. The queen and princess along with their courts were honored with a special dance with music provided by the New World Quartet.

On May 13th 81 members of the senior class were winging their way to Washington D.C. for two days of touring and visits to some of the most historical places in the United States.

The last day of the trip was spent at colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, and Jamestown where it was exciting to see just how our ancestors got their start.

A Time for Studies

The field of science, important in our fast moving world today, had its place in high school. The courses offered were Biology, Advanced Biology, Earth Science, Electricity, Chemistry, and Physics.

Teaching our scientific classes were Mr. Littlepage and Mr. Scribner.

The Biology classes spent most of their time studying the anatomy of animals and insects while Chemistry students experimented with basic chemical compounds.

Students in all science courses participated in the Annual Science Fair which took place in March.

Science Probes Elements of Nature

At Right—Miss Ertel listens patiently as Dale Duncan confronts her with a problem in bookkeeping.

Students Investigate Business Fields

Students interested in the commercial line of work were all required to take some of the courses in business.

In Shorthand I and II students dealt with the phonetical sound and make up of words. This had to be accomplished before they could read and write the phrases efficiently.

Bookkeeping and Office Practice were two of the other courses offered that familiarized the students with office procedure.

Typing was offered to those who were eager to learn how to build the speed and dexterity of their fingers.

Students Probe World Affairs

Discussions of current events, campaigning for Senators, and representatives, and the predicting of football scores were among the many events that went on in the History and Geography classes.

United States History, a requirement, and World History, an elective, helped the students learn about the men who make our government and to better understand how it runs. Geography enables many students to get a better picture of the world surrounding them.

At Right—Just one typical day in the study of our ever popular government.

Healthy Drivers Exercise Abilities

Physical Education and Drivers Education were both subjects to coordinate ones skills.

Such sports as softball, basketball, soccer, and tumbling were just some of the activities enjoyed by most freshman.

Those interested in driving were learning basic function of the engine and then later practiced their skills on the road with caution.

Below—Howard Harnish samples one of the hamburgers that he made in Family Planning.

Practical Students Prepare for Life

While the boys in agriculture were learning the anatomy of a cow, the production of pork, and special fields that will apply to their future years as farmers, the girls and boys in Home Economics were learning the basic steps in making dresses and preparing meals. These vocational training classes taught the students the skills that will make them the homemakers and farmers of tomorrow.

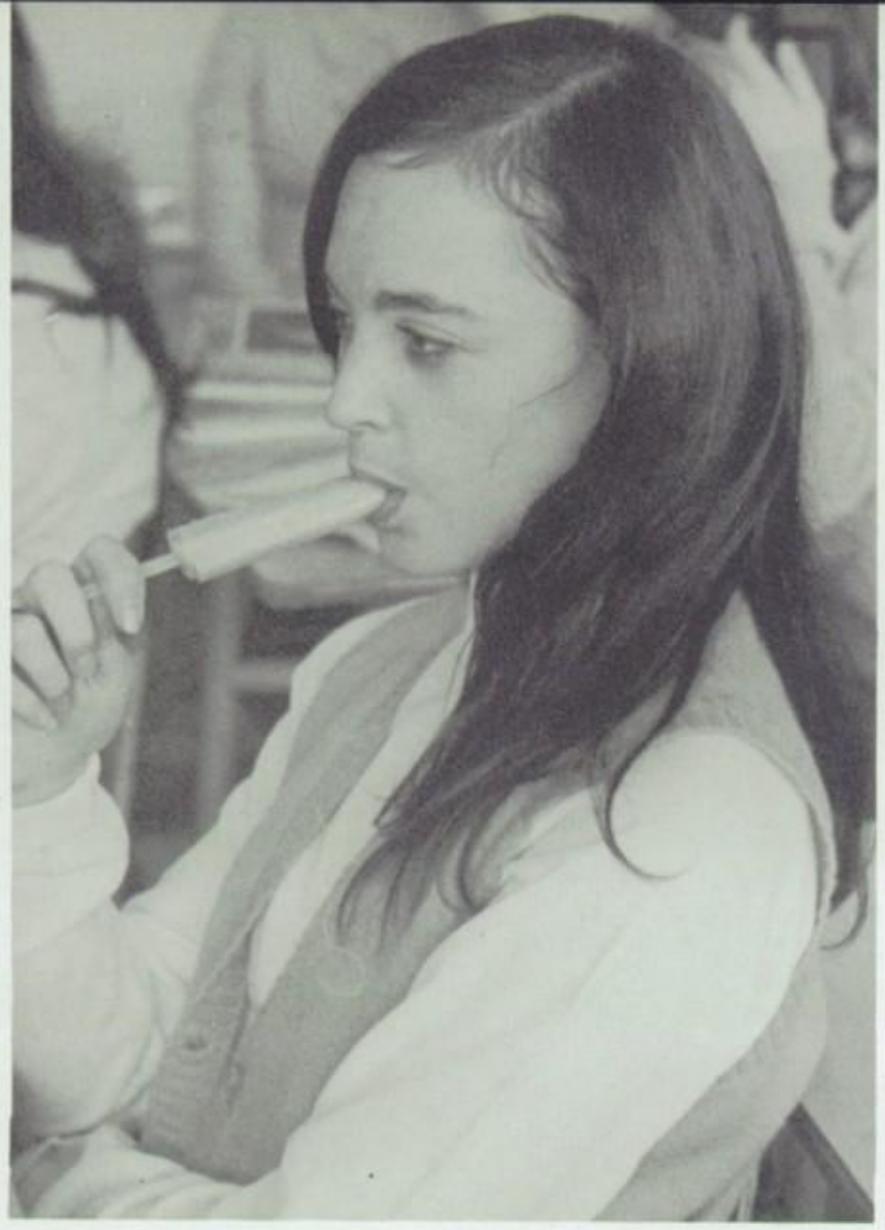
Students Expend Fine Art of Speech

Every graduate of CHS has been required to take at least three years of English. Through many themes, book reports, and daily assignments, the students eventually became prepared to tackle term papers and critical analysis.

Speech, an age old subject at CHS, was offered to all high school students who were interested in developing their speaking habits. Mr. Norman taught them to speak without fear, demonstrate without fumbling and debate the current issues of the day.



Pennie Carson suffers through Spanish class with a popsicle.

Spanish—A Useful Foreign Language

Students in Spanish I, II, and III studied not only the grammar part of the Spanish language but also the culture of the people and many other interesting points they never knew existed.

Marie Ensalmi, our exchange student from Chile was very warm and responsive to Hoosier hospitality and said she hated having to go back home.

Balance Is the Mark of Eagle Success

Jerry Partin goes for a shot despite some opposition.

Ending a very active as well as tiring season, the Eagles proved to all their foes that they had something the other teams didn't possess.

Leading scoring statistics for the Eagles was Senior Jerry Partin with Daryl Rapp coming in a close second with totals of 357 and 345 points scored in free throws and field goals respectively. Curt Bair led all others in his defensive play with a total of 115 defensive rebounds.

All in all the Eagles gained much valuable experience that will be indispensable to returning lettermen.

Girl's sports at CHS have grown and developed into a worthwhile and interesting activity for many girls who weren't satisfied with just watching and not participating.

Among those offered were softball, baseball, basketball, and volleyball. Each team competed with other high school teams in the area for the true spirit of winning.

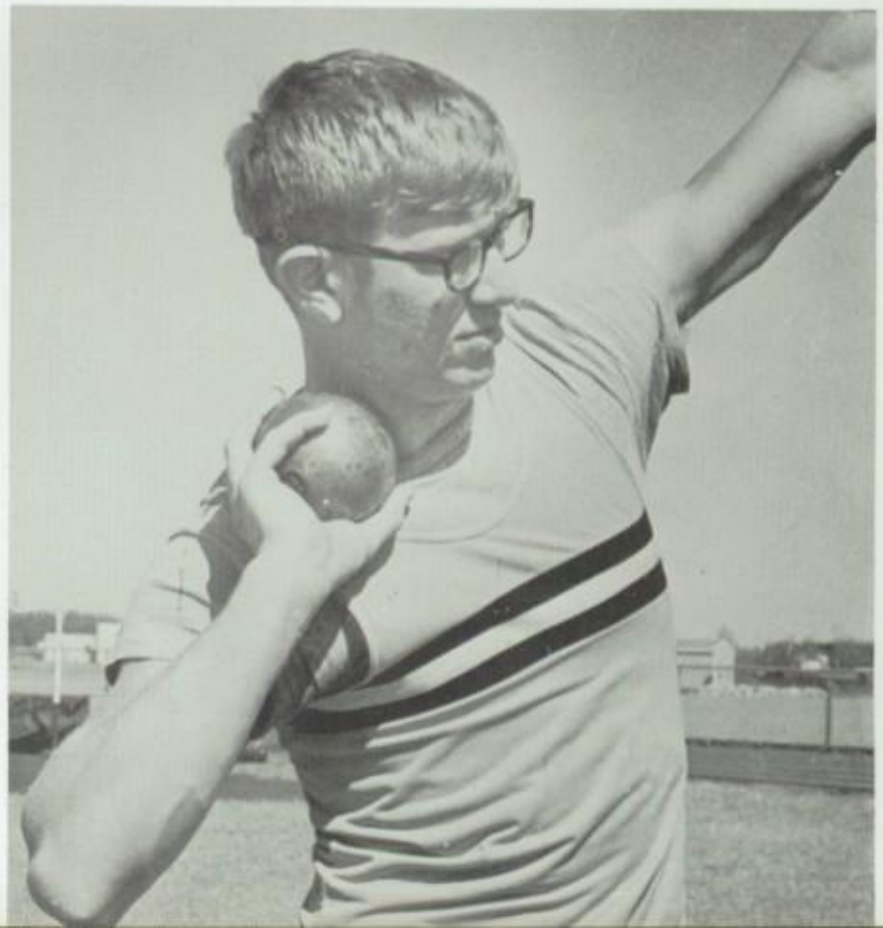
CHS Trackmen Face Tough Opposition

Jerry Partin stretches to make it over the last hurdle.

This year the trackmen of CHS were able to show their power and dependability on the track even though the odds were sometimes against them. New records were set making the old ones obsolete. Daily training and the will to win kept the Eagles going strong through the season.



At right—Jim LaRue moves into position to throw the shotput.

Jerry Partin, senior letterman and pitcher for the Eagles, lines up another fast ball.

CHS Sluggers Prove Power

Kerry Rapp stands ready to out the man on first.

Not only was Jerry a good pitcher, but he also held the record for the best batting average.

A Time for Friends

School Board—Mr. Clarence Resler, Mr. Lester Sheets, Mr. Everett Jones, Mr. Jason Smith, Mr. Robert Johnson, Mr. Walter Linvill.

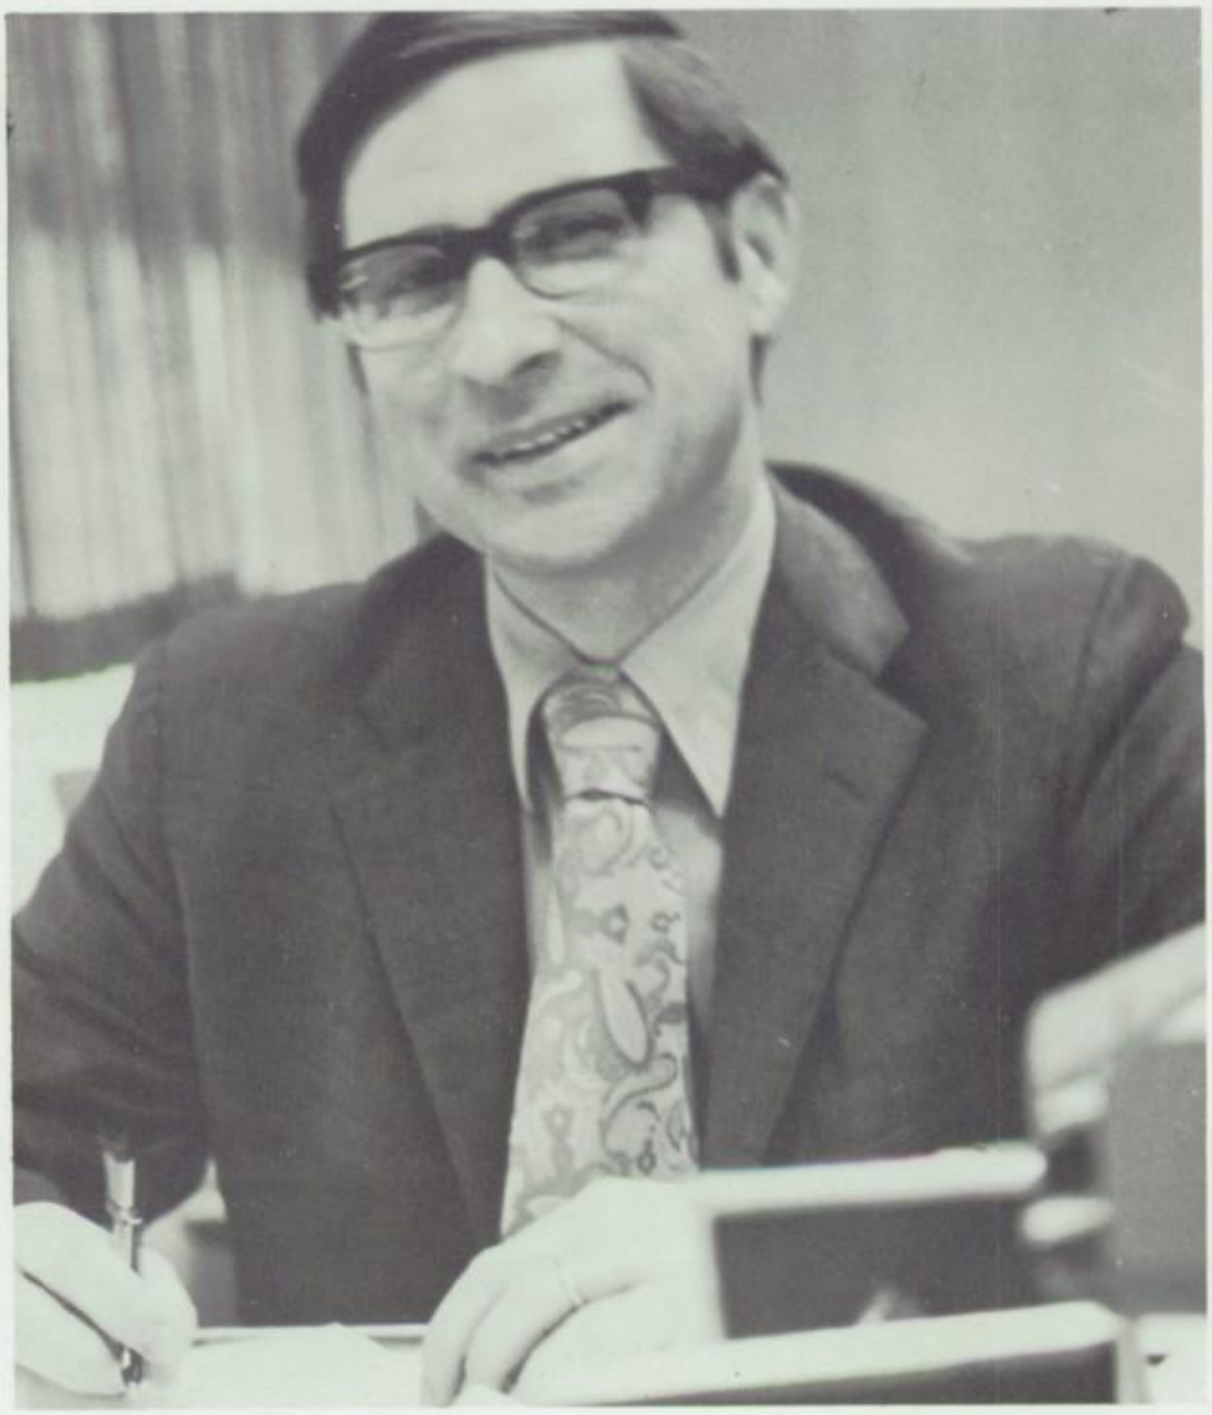
Board Aids in School Programs

Above—Excavating of the future sight of the high school is already taking place.

Below—This is the newly acquired Superintendent's office.

Mr. Baker taught at Churubusco High School several years before taking the position of principal. In this position, he served the school and community well. The students here have not forgotten all the things he has done to help our school.

Mr. Baker will be going on to college to secure his Doctorate degree and to him we wish the best of luck.



Lower left—Mr. Delagrange served as assistant principal and will next year serve as high school principal.
